GMAC is recognized by the Royal Government of Cambodia as representative of the garment export-oriented factories. Established in 1996, GMAC has been a prominent association representing, promoting, and safeguarding the rights and interests of the garment industry. GMAC's objective is to provide a forum for consultation and discussion among members of common interests and seek the adoption of sound policies and a legal environment conducive to the growth and development of the Cambodian garment industry. GMAC also provides various value-added services to members, such as market linkages, trade promotion, supports for market access, training, legal updates including government regulations and announcements, business matching, general business information, networking, and others.
